

Dickerson Sport & Learning Group

Who We Are

Education and enrichment programming are must-haves in today's athletic team space. Effectively incorporating such initiatives into your team's training – whether at the youth levels, high school or college, or in professional sports – creates a culture athletes love and thrive in.

Dickerson Sport & Learning Group focuses on providing every athlete and student with universal access to education and increased access to vocational, formal, informal, and non-formal learning. Dickerson SLG understands that this is key for young people to address their aspirations and challenges, fulfill their potential on and off the field of play, and influence their current and future social and economic conditions and opportunities.

Why Choose Us?

Deep Industry Experience

We have worked with the Los Angeles Unified School District, Major League Baseball, the Texas Rangers, Los Angeles Dodgers, Miami Marlins, and others.

Consulting Expertise

We work closely with clients to embed a culture of confident leadership and decision-making, cognitive and emotional resilience, and the healthy pursuit of lasting success within their athletes, students, and team members.

Our Services

Consulting & Partnership Programs

We create custom programs tailored to clients' learning objectives and implement tailor-made training throughout the academic year or season.

Education & Enrichment Programming

Through academic enrichment programs, athletes participate in supplemental learning opportunities that advance their mastery of academic subjects and engage them in the intellectual life of higher education.

Performance & Life Coaching

We work with clients to strengthen their or their athletes' cognitive resilience, enhance emotional control, boost self-confidence, manage stress and anxiety, improve decision-making under pressure, and more. We design custom programs tailored to athletes' unique lifestyles and skill sets and implement training accordingly.

Equity 101

We partner with our clients to build an equitable path forward for their students, athletes, and staff - helping to create better teams and communities.
